

Lights

Once upon a time there was a small-small village on the top of the mountain called Sermugnano. The people from here had very strong connection with their environment. This connection was so so strong. If someone gave a birth to a baby they gave fire the marker candle. It was on the wall very high at the side part of the place, in front of the dale. So with this sign-fire they let everyone know about the nice new in the dale.

The half-window

So many years before a lovely family lived in that house in peace and love. Everything was nice, they had 3 sweet children. The father was a hewer and he was the only who earned money. One day when he went into the forest he didn't come back at the evening. And also the next day. His family were waiting for him so much but it was vainly. He never came back. They had to learn how to live without him. Their life changed a lot. For example the women started to sale handmade products on the market. Next to it this window is one of the outcomes. They had to build up the half of the window to keep inside the warm in the winter time.

The baby door

In middle Italy there is a small village called Sermugnano. This minikin stone village many many years ago had a mysterious secret. Between the narrow streets lived a small green being, a goblin. It was alone here, but the locals loved it so much. They were thankful because it took care of them, brought luck for them and helped a lot. It was a very unsu thing here. If the locals said things about it for other people, they never believed it. And when they said, okay come and see it with your own eyes, was also useless because the goblin was very scared and it never showed itself to anyone else. So the people just gave up and lived in piece in their happy life with the know that they are special, 'cause they have their own goblin. Nowadays of course there is no more goblin and some people still think that it was never been there. But who knows...

The landscape

This place could be the same world like peace, there are only trees, flowers, birds and other animals, plants. If you want to be part of the nature, feel that you can fly, come to Sermugnano. Climb up to the top, search a sympathetic place, sit down and enjoy. Enjoy the view, the nature, the silence... Bring with you something what you like, it can be chocolate, wine, gummybears, water, whatever. And just feel easy, feel the dolce vita.
